STOCK MARKET

New York, Nov. 20.—Opening.—The lethargy and lower price trend which marked yesterday's trading was continued today, war shares and automobile issues being especially heavy. Almost the sole exception was Mercantile Marine preferred, which recovered a point of its decline. Canadian Pacific was a point lower at 122 1/2, with very slight changes in other main favorites. Copper, which ranks as a war stock, was down 2 3/4 at 58. U. S. Steel made a nominal recession on light offerings.

Close—Steady. Liquidation today caused numerous stocks to decline to lowest prices of the week. Dealings were light and support was often lacking, especially in war shares, where greatest heaviness was reflected. There were no definite overnight developments to account for the general recession. Even rails, which recently manifested a stronger tendency, lost ground with only minor speculative losses. Some substantial recoveries were made later. Texas Company advancing 10 1/2 to 203. The closing was irregular. Bonds were firm.

U. S. A. Flyers In Wichita Falls On First Big Trip

Wichita Falls, Tex., Nov. 20.—With the prospect of completing their journey from Fort Worth to Fort Worth, the United States Army prepared today to begin the 14 mile flight from here to Fort Worth. The machines were overhauled and readjusted last night.

Weather Forecast

New Haven, Nov. 20.—Forecast: partly cloudy and colder tonight and Sunday.
Connecticut: partly cloudy and colder tonight and Sunday. Fresh to strong winds on the coast.
Barometers throughout the northeast are reading very low this morning, although the disturbance has diminished in intensity. The center of low pressure lies in the eastern part of the province of Quebec. Rain and gales have been general in north-eastern sections with moderate temperatures. High pressure areas are present on the gulf and north Pacific coasts. Cool, pleasant weather is reported from the southern states and generally fair weather from most western sections.

CARRANZA TROOPS SURROUND CANANIA, SMELTING CENTER; VILLA ESCAPE MAY BE CUT OFF

Jaurez, Nov. 20.—Canania, center of the smelting industry of Sonora, is today surrounded by Carranza troops under General Alvarado Obregon. In an attempt to cut off the escape of the Villa forces under General Rodriguez, according to advices received by Carranza officials here. Carranza officials claim that the battle in the part of Sonora is turning in Obregon's favor.

Indication of another Carranza victory was given, the officials said, in advices stating that Villa's main army, located 23 miles from Hermosillo, had been cut off from communication with Nogales.

Field headquarters of Obregon and General P. Elias Calles are established at Villavieja, midway between Cananea and Naco, from which place the present movement against Villa began.

Snailshots reported yesterday as unimportant, resulted in the death of 12, killed on the Villa side and two on the Carranza side. General Calles was struck above the heart by a spent bullet which inflicted no injury.

General Rodriguez attempted to escape from Cananea during the day. It was reported in Carranza circles that he was driven back at Puertoচিত্ত, by cavalry under General Cardenas. At Hermosillo General Diegues, deputed Villa's main army and cut communications by destroying railroad bridges and telegraph lines, according to an alleged wireless message given out by Carranza consul Lelievre as coming from General Diegues. The message said Villa had retreated five miles to Alamito, 23 miles north of Hermosillo.

J. N. Hall, superintendent of the Mexican ranches of the Slaughter Land & Cattle Company, claims that he has received practical confirmation of the killing of Henry Slate and A. N. Harper, American ranch employees. These men were reported killed Nov. 12 by Manuel Vasquez, outlaw band.

WATER COMPANY GETS POOR FARM AT TORRINGTON

Judge Gager Decides in Suit Resulting From Typhoid Epidemic in Town.

Torrington, Nov. 20.—Judge Edwin B. Gager, of the superior court of Litchfield County, has handed down a decision in favor of the Torrington Water Company in a suit against the town of Torrington for the condemnation of the town farm property situated on the watershed. The court finds that the continuance of the town farm is a danger to the health of the community sufficient to warrant exercising the right of eminent domain. The decision provides that a committee of three disinterested freeholders of the county be appointed to determine and award the amount to be paid by the water company to the town.

The case has attracted widespread attention owing to the fact that it is an indirect result of the typhoid fever epidemic of four years ago. The farm in question was described by the state board of health as one of the sources of possible contamination of the water supply. It was then owned by William A. Sickmund. Last spring it was purchased by the town for almshouse purposes, against the protest of the water company, which claimed that as an almshouse site the farm would be a greater menace to the health than when owned by an individual. The case was stubbornly fought by the town.

DAINTY PARASOLS HIDE SECRET OF COMING NUPTIALS

Miss Curtis to Wed Radford B. Smith, Jr.—Yacht Club Buys Property.

(Special to The Farmer.)
Stratford, Nov. 20.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Curtis of Judson Place, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Myra Curtis, to Radford B. Smith, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Radford B. Smith of Main street. Miss Curtis is a graduate of the Stratford High school. Mr. Smith also is an alumnus of the high school and was graduated from Yale university last June. He is now associated in business with his father in Bridgeport. The engagement was announced in a very novel manner. Miss Curtis was entertaining the sewing club of which she is a member and at the party presented each guest with a tiny parasol which when opened displayed two names.

Among those present were the Misses Grace Ault, Helen Towne, Marjorie Haynes, Dorothy Wood, Beatrice Goodell, Lillian Pollett and Lorraine Pollett. The Footscutts Yacht club at a special meeting held recently decided to purchase the property of Samuel Lewis on Housatonic avenue for a new club and yacht headquarters. The purchase price is said to be about $3,000.

The Stratford High school basketball team was defeated in their game Thursday evening by the St. Augustine quintet of Bridgeport. The score was 18 to 8. The game was played in the town hall. There was a good sized attendance. The contest bristled with fast and exciting plays. Ted Rieberg featured for the locals. Masses at St. James R. C. church, Sunday, will be celebrated at 8:30 and 10:30. High mass at 10:30. Vespers at 7:30. Rev. Michael J. O'Connor, the pastor, will officiate.

Rev. Edward N. Packard, D.D., pastor of the Congregational church, will preach at both services on Sunday. Morning, "Is God Good?" Evening, "Thanksgiving Under All Conditions."

Don't forget to visit the big furniture auction sale held by A. Elwood at the new auction rooms, 280 Fairfield avenue, on Monday, Nov. 22. Eight rooms of household furniture must be sold to close the estate of the late H. A. Lambert, everything that goes in the house will be sold. This will be a fine opportunity to secure furniture at a bargain. There are also five van loads of storage goods to be sold. Sale starts Monday at 2 o'clock; evenings at 7 o'clock, and will continue every day following until everything is sold. Lots of good bargains in this sale.—Adv.

SEE PEACE MOVE IN CARDINAL'S VISIT TO POPE

CARDINAL VON HARTMANN

Cardinal von Hartmann, archbishop of Cologne, who telegraphed to Pope Benedict announcing that he would visit Rome, adding that he was the bearer of important communications, enjoys the confidence of not only the Pope, but also of Emperor William. He was employed by the pontiff in all negotiations to obtain better treatment for French ecclesiastics who had been made prisoners and for the exchange of wounded soldiers and of civilian unable to fight. The cardinal conducts negotiations directly with the emperor, from whom he recently obtained commutation of death sentences passed on several prominent Belgian Catholics. Cardinal Gasquet and Billot were reported to be on their way to Rome to represent Great Britain and France, while the arrival of Cardinal Bugin, archbishop of Quebec, was announced. The fact that ecclesiastics representing several of the warring nations would be at the Vatican at the same time gave rise to the belief that steps toward peace might be discussed.

ARMS COMPANY MEN COMPLAIN OF CAR SERVICE

Protest That They Are Carried Only As Far as Station at Midnight.

Complaint has been lodged with the Connecticut Co. against the midnight service from the Arms Co. to the Stratfield and Brooklawn districts. The present schedule of cars gives a number of waiting conveyances at the Remington Arms & Ammunition Co. at midnight. Cars are run direct from the plant to the end of State street and through Stratford avenue, but about 30 passengers are nightly dumped off at the railroad station and they complain that they have to wait there until the arrival of New Haven trains at about 12:45. In one instance they are said to have been compelled to wait until after 1:30 in the morning.

Workers at the Arms Co. assert that large numbers of employees are seeking refuge in the Stratfield and Brooklawn districts and that the present nucleus of 30 passengers should be sufficient to warrant a car being run through for them nightly. General Manager Chapman is considering the request and assures inquirers that the company will be willing to do everything possible to facilitate transportation.

SENATOR BARTLETT WILL BE GOVERNOR TODAY

Senator Frederic A. Bartlett of Bridgeport, president pro tempore of the Senate of 1915, was the governor of Connecticut from about 19:26 a. m. to about 7 p. m. today, for both governor and lieutenant governor were out of the state. Governor M. H. Holcomb took the 8:36 o'clock train for Boston to see the football game. He was at the Yale hotel just a week ago and naturally was unable to resist the disposition to follow the game to its conclusion. The governor is ex-officio a member of the Yale corporation and his interest in the educational progress of that venerable institution is entirely reasonable. The first understudy of the governor, the lieutenant governor, Mayor Clifford B. Wilson of Bridgeport, is in Virginia, and accordingly the gubernatorial mantle fell on the president of the senate.
